MEYER Z52 ZOYSIA—Developed by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture and the U.S. Golf Assn. Green Section. Meyer Zoysia forms a lawn of firm, resilient turf that resists drought and extreme summer heat, goes for weeks without watering, grows in any soil from heaviest clay to lightest sand. When established Z-52 turf is so dense that neither weeds nor crabgrass can penetrate. Z-52 has no seed. Two-inch round plugs are planted with a simple garden tool in existing lawns or prepared areas, one to the square foot. Each plug branches out laterally forming new plants as it spreads, building an extensive root system that holds moisture. In less than two growing seasons Z-52 crowds out weeds and crabgrass, forms a sparkling green turf. It resists heavy traffic, withstands abuse and offers a cushiony, protective surface for play areas, improves with age, is hardy in winter (30° below doesn't faze it) and is vigorous all summer long. Z-52 concentrates its growth laterally instead of upwards, needs mowing only every few weeks, thrives without watering over extended periods of drought. Yes, it actually thrives in hottest weather.
